

Connect the dots
to see the White House.

- Answers:
- 6. Because Americans felt that black robes are more suitable for a democratic nation and Americans wanted to distinguish themselves from the red robes the British wore.
 - 7. books
 - 8. 1966
 - 9. The state.
 - 10. Richard Bassett, Gunning Bedford Jr., Jacob Broom, John Dickenson, or George Reed
 - 5. Preserve, protect, and defend
 - 4. [Your choice]
 - 3. [Your choice]
 - 2. New York
 - 1. Mickey Mouse

NATIONAL CONSTITUTION CENTER

Constitutional Quest

The Constitutional Quest is an easy and fun way to explore our museum. Follow the clues that match the numbered arrows and solve mysteries throughout the museum. See how many you can find!

Answers on back page.

National Constitution Center

Independence Mall

Philadelphia, PA

215-409-6600

www.constitutioncenter.org

1. You may recognize this cartoon character, but did you know that his original name was "Steamboat Willie"? Find him by looking for big ears!

What's his name?

2. Find the state Constitution from one of the original 13 states.

What is the state?

3. Enter a tall booth with blue curtains. This is a place that registered voters know. Discover the candidates and vote.

Who did you vote for?

4. Use the interactive screen that can give you information about your state.

What state do you live in?

What's your state population?

Who is your state governor?

5. Take the Presidential Oath and list the three promises you, as President, make.

_____, _____, _____

6. Try on a black robe like the ones judges wear. Why are all judges' robes black?

7. In this exhibit something is piled up high that's also used in school. They are frequently used to explain the law.

What is it a stack of?

8. During the 1960's, the Supreme Court case of Miranda v. Arizona established a suspect's "right to remain silent."

What year was the case decided?

9. Go to the sculpture of a silver, winding road that represents federal and state law. Find out what rules Congress imposed concerning motorcycle helmets.

Who enforces the use of motorcycle helmets on highways?

10. Find the five men from Delaware who signed the Constitution.

Who were three of the five delegates from Delaware?

_____, _____, _____

